

Mrs. Wilson Plans Hot Weather Meals

Vegetables, Eggs and Cool, Green Salads All Come in for a Larger Share of Attention

By MRS. M. A. WILSON

THE meal at the close of day when the entire family is assembled in the home is often a real problem to the busy housewife, and just what to place before them is a question indeed.

This is the season of the year, just at the beginning of the real hot season, and the family becomes finicky, and the mother plans dainty, attractive meals that will frequently leave the table hungry, even though it is laden with the best the market affords.

Have the dining room as cool as possible and keep it dark until just before you serve the meal. Often times spraying just a little good toilet water will refresh the atmosphere. Set the table with dainty, attractive china, having a few flowers in a low flat dish in the center of the table, and have sufficient space between each member of the family so that there will be no crowding.

If you will have the ice tinkling in the glass, the family will surely appreciate it. This is a time to leave away from the old habits and establish a dainty hot-weather supper menu that will satisfy and appeal to the family at the close of the day.

The question of bread for the evening meal may soon be solved by having with Menu No. 2 thin whole wheat or rye bread, buttered on the loaf, and cut in thin slices and folded.

Eggs a la Newberg
Boil six eggs hard, chill, remove the shells and cut in quarters. Now place in either chafin dish or saucepan. Two and one-half cups of milk, one-half cup of flour.

Beat to dissolve the flour and bring to a boil. Cook for five minutes and then add:
Tiny pinch of nutmeg,
One teaspoon of salt,
One-half teaspoon of white pepper,
One-half teaspoon of paprika,
One cup of mushrooms that have been peeled and parboiled.

The prepared egg salad
Heat slowly, and when scalding hot serve in crisp rolls that have been scooped out and then slightly toasted. Garnish with finely chopped green pepper.

Fish Salad
Tuna fish or salmon may be used for this salad. Open fish selected and drain in dish, and if you select salmon remove the skin and bones and turn well.

Mince fine
Two green peppers,
Two onions,
Four branches of parsley,
and add:
One-half cup of capers,
One cup of mayonnaise dressing.

Mix the herbs and dressing well, turn the fish in individual nests of lettuce and make with the dressing and garnish with wedge-shaped sections of tomato and slices of hard-boiled egg. Dust with paprika and serve ice cold.

MRS. SANGER'S FRANKNESS STARTLES CHINESE WOMEN
Girl Interpreter Abandons Her Task to Male Physician

Shanghai, China, May 17.—(Delayed)—Mrs. Margaret Sanger, president of the American Birth Control League, after leaving Japan, where her lectures were considerably restricted by official regulations, found no hampering influences in China and discussed her subject with such frankness that her interpreter, a young Chinese woman, whose modesty overcame her, abandoned the task to a male physician.

Mrs. Sanger's difficulty with her interpreter came up at her most important meeting in Shanghai, at which she spoke under the auspices of the Chinese Association for Family Reformation and allied organizations. A Chinese physician in the audience volunteered for the post when the young female interpreter stepped down.

The American lecturer did not appear before any of the foreign women's organizations of Shanghai in the ten-day period she spent in this city. Mrs. Sanger began her Chinese tour at Peking, where she formed a branch of the American league, which she heads. Then she came to Shanghai. She is at present in South China.

Saucy Mermaids Seem Bare-Legged When Stockings Get Wet

Special Dispatch to Evening Public Ledger
Atlantic City, June 10.—Beach censor Ed Shaw was called back into service yesterday and ordered to bring his tape line with him. It is not the girls who are causing the trouble this time, however, but young men of athletic build.

Chief Beach Surgeon Bossert, who has entire control of the beach, declared yesterday that, while he is inclined to be reasonable, he is not altogether pleased with the length or rather shortness of some of the bathing trunks which have made their appearance on the strand.

Shaw is also puzzled as to what course he should follow with the fair bathers who wear the prescribed covering, but add white silk stockings so sheer that when they get wet, it's difficult to see them. The girls are keeping Shaw busy by "rolling 'em down" in the water and then appear on the beach.
